

IMAGE AS TEXT

The 21st century has pulled us into a trivial cycle of high-speed information. We are immersed in a constant flow of images, pictures, videos, memes, social media ads, and heaps of other visual stimulation sources. An image is easily noticeable, and its message becomes clear within a fraction of a second.

Similarly, a text in a book has gradually taken shape of an image by appearing in comic books or graphic novels.

How is this increasingly visual development of information affecting our lives? What does it bring? How important is an image in a text and should it be important at all?

Vilnius Book Fair 2021 will offer its visitors texts and images in the context of Image as text unravelling through art exhibitions, live conversation and discussions, presentations of the best books and authors of the year.
